THE STATE MEET TO-MORROW

To-morrow will occur one of the interesting events of the year for us. At 1.30 on our campus representatives of the five leading schools of the State will compete for first honors in the annual Inter-collegiate Athletic conference. This is the first time that such a thing has been held in this part of the State, and we should make it successful in every way.

It is somewhat certain that the University will capture the most points; but our boys will be prominent figures in every event, and a few firsts are coming to us.

Probably the best and closest race of the meet will be the 120 hurdle. In this, the first will be between our captain, Conger, Roskelley of the B. Y. C., and Stewart of the U. of U. Each of these has made about the same time in this race, but Conger is chosen for first place. Some time ago he defeated Stewart of the U. easily, and, in a close race, recently beat Roskelley. In the meantime, however, all have improved wonderfully and have cut the time below 17 seconds.

Whitehead, our sprinter, is showing good form, but he has a strong competitor in Brinton. Our Midget, however, will make him go some.

Our distance men, Plant, West-erholm, Wyatt, and Cooley are in for results. It will be a beautiful half-mile race between Plant and Chamberlain of the B. Y. U.

We should win first in the high hurdles, first and second in the low hurdles, third in the sprints and distances, and we will run Provo close for second in the relay. Thus summed up, makes third in the meet.

In the relay Whitehead will start on the pole; Wyatt will follow; then Bennion or Carroll; Allred will finish. This is a team of sprinters, and, if Provo wins, they will have to make cinders fly.

It is likely that all the contestants will be in Logan tonight. Go and see them and welcome them here.

Agricultural Work.

A great deal has been said about this department in these columns already, particularly of the different appropriations and plans for next year. It might not be inopportune, however, to briefly review some of it.

Most prominent among the features of next year will be the Stock Judging Pavilion. For more satisfactory results can be obtained when the students have comfortable quarters in which to work. A new veterinary hospital is to be erected which will add greatly to the efficiency of that line of work. Prof. Caine will soon travel over much of Europe in quest of the finest lines of live stock, for which $15,000 was appropriated. By this the college will have the finest class of blooded stock to be found in the west.

The strong Agricultural Faculty is to remain practically the same as at present, with the addition of Professor Stewart and Porter, who will resume their work in the chemical line. So all told a more efficient and better prepared bunch of men would be hard to find.

As this is an agricultural college, the people of the State are looking for results in Agriculture, and the things that pertain to the growth and development of the state in that line. The college and the work that is being done here has long attracted attention. With the exceptional equipment, etc., and the line up for next year there is no reason why we can't have one of the best Agricultural Courses in the west, if not in the county. It is a special duty of every student to make a systematic boost for the Agricultural Department for next year and bring in as many students as possible. It is a fascinating line of work, and there is room for much progress. With a large attendance and some active work, there is no reason to doubt that the results obtained next year will not be far in advance of previous years.

A big attendance is expected at the Summer School, which starts immediately at the close of the regular work.

Alumni to Seniors.

Last Monday evening the members of the Alumni Association, who could be present, entertained the senior class in a delightful informal manner in the faculty room. Songs were sung and stories were told after which each received his plate from two dainty servers.

A jolly good time was had, and the seniors received a fitting preparation for their final invitation into the Alumni on June 2nd.

Other than the faculty members of the Alumni, there were present Mr. F. D. Farrell, '07, and Mr. Humphreys and wife. During the evening, Dr. McDonald was invited to partake of the refreshments.

E. G. Peterson, '04, assistant professor of zoology and entomology, at present on leave of absence and studying in the graduate department of Cornell University, is meeting with conspicuous success in his special field of bacteriology. He has submitted his thesis for the degree of A. M., and as tangible recognition of his merits as a student he has been offered the position of Instructor in Bacteriology in Cornell University. He has accepted the position for next year,—all the more readily as it leaves him ample time for research work. He will spend the summer vacation in Logan.

Dr. Ball has gone to Colo. on Station work. The Colo. A. C. Experiment Station recently got out a bulletin on the "Poisonous Effects of Arsenical Spraying of Apple Trees." A question has arisen over the conclusions drawn in that bulletin, and our Station is taking up the matter with a view of disproving some of them. As arsenic is used very extensively in spraying, a bulletin of that nature, if it should happen to be wrong, could do a very great amount of damage to the Western fruit crop.

Editor Lloyd of "The Buzzer" has been in Salt Lake since last Saturday. He reports that "The Buzzer" is being published in first class style.

Brossard Pitches Winning Ball

Last Saturday, the Aggies won another victory by defeating the Saints by the narrow margin of 4 to 3.

It was a beautiful day and almost every Aggie rooter availed himself of the opportunity of seeing the Aggie twirlers in action. During three innings neither team made a run. In the first of the third, the Saints scored a run. Soon the Aggies scored and gained a lead which won them the game.

The Aggies played the better ball, yet the contest was in doubt until the last ball was safe in the catcher's mit. In the first of the eighth, the Saints made a long drive to center field, with two men on bases. Webb, leaning way back, caught the ball bare handed and thus prevented in a sensational play, the Saints from scoring.

Brossard Injured.

Brossard had pitched eight innings when he injured his knee again. He was turning to look at a man running home, while the ball was being returned from center field. Up to this time, he had pitched well, allowing only three hits. The Saints, from the beginning, were never able to hit his balls. Morgan took the place of Brossard and played his steady strike-out game.

Brossard will probably be unable to engage in athletics for some years to come. Cardon will probably be out in a suit again playing a position in the field.

IF there is anything left to do before the meet, do it now. Tomorrow may be too late.

OUR guests tomorrow are from every part of the state and, for the welfare of our school, we should show them a royal time.

SEE that each visitor visits our school and hears of its prospects for next year; any of them will be interested for they all have heard of us.

TOMORROW is to be the greatest day for athletics ever at the A. C. for then we are to see representatives from the four big state schools, and our own compete in the state track meet. This is the first time the state meet has been held here. From indications it will be a good one. A large crowd of people is expected here from other places. Lets show them a good time.

THE Student Body "Sweater" dance in the pavilion Monday evening next promises to be a great affair. Arrangements have been completed and the party will be worth attending. As the Student Body tickets are good, the College will be well represented. The special feature of awarding the sweaters to all athletic teams for the year ought to attract a good crowd of town's people.

SINCE the request by President Widsöe for students to fill out the blank forms handed them, with the names of people whom they think would be interested in the College work to whom catalogues could be sent, there is room for careful consideration on the part of every student here. Perhaps somewhere among your acquaintances there are people who are amply able to attend the A. C. but for various reasons have had no inducement to enter school. As a result they are profitlessly spending their time in aimless effort when they ought to be in college, preparing themselves for a greater usefulness in later life. Think the matter over then exert all your influence to induce those people to enter school. If not here, at least somewhere. The time is rapidly coming when the individual without some higher training will have to hustle to keep his place in the world. With a little effort you may be able to bring those people into line and thus confer upon them a favor that couldn't possibly be done in any other way.

The marriage of Miss Grace Grant, the young daughter of Heber J. Grant, and I. Blair Evans, of Ogden, will take place in this city late in June, the young people going later to Ogden to make their home.—S. L. Herald, May 9. Well now, who'd a thought it!

Dr. Widsöe tells us that his class at Harvard is contemplating a great reunion next month, it being fifteen years since they graduated. There were about 320 men in the class, and now after fifteen years there are representatives in almost every walk of life. So it ought to be a very interesting assemblage.

Editor Peterson is sizing up material for his staff next year. He is going to add an Inter-collegiate department, and retain all those now constituting the line up. The new department will also look after the exchanges, etc. Then besides these, there will be a special reporter from the different departments of the school, i. e. Aggie, Domestic Science, Mechanic Arts, Commerce, General Science, etc.

The staff is busy now on the special Commencement number of Student Life. Some good material is going in and no doubt it will be a fine issue.

President Widsöe will write a book for the Rural-Science Series on "Dry Farming." This will be watched for with no little interest by the students and the many other friends of Dr. Widsöe.

Dr. Widsow was in Salt Lake the early part of the week.

Watch for the "Royal Foolorian Band" at the game today.

Rev. Jones gave a very interesting talk to the Pi Zeta Pi Fraternity boys in their club rooms last Saturday on "Student Life at Yale."

"Utah Diamant" now enjoys the honor of having his name in the official Percheron stud-book of America. His number is 54468.

As we go to press Editor Lloyd phones from Salt Lake that the "Pressman's Strike," now on down there, will probably delay "The Buzzer" for three or four days.

Dr. McDonald, of Petoria, South Africa, was at the school Tuesday morning and Professor Hogenson drove him to the Junction that day. On the way there, they stopped for a few moments on several of the best dry farms, as the visitor is investigating the arid-farm conditions of the country.

Plans are rapidly materializing now days for the Commencement exercises. The Seniors have given Field day "night" to the Alumni association, while the class exercises will be given on Saturday evening, May 29. On Sunday the very Reverend W. R. Harris of the Catholic church in Salt Lake will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon. Governor Spry will give the address to the graduates.
